

APALSA Charter | 2011-2012

The Asian Pacific American Law Student Association (APALSA) is a validly chartered SBA organization whose membership, meetings, activities and services are open to all students of Albany Law School and the surrounding area. APALSA does not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, creed, religion, national or ethnic origin, age, marital status, or sexual preference.

APALSA is organized for the purpose of promoting multicultural awareness and diversity within Albany Law School and the Albany area through representing and advocating the interests and aspirations of APA law students. APALSA also seeks to foster the exchange of ideas and understanding of the legal, political, and social status of Asian Pacific Americans and other underrepresented peoples in society. In this, APALSA also aims to provide a support network for all members both academically and socially by encouraging participation, cooperation, and collaboration with other minority student organizations in and around the Albany Law School area and the greater Asian Pacific American community.

APALSA hereby affirms to timely turn in its budget through its elected Treasurer. Should APALSA not timely turn in its budget, the APALSA President and Steering Committee hereby affirms that it takes responsibility for any adverse effects to the amount of funding it receives.
